

America's global ambitions are reduced to one father, his daughter, and the two men who seek to reunite them.

When Elias Haddad is tricked into returning to his home in Syria and leaving behind his beloved daughter Cheryl Halia, he is detained upon his arrival and conscripted into Assad's army. Thus begins a forty-year geopolitical odyssey from hell which culminates in his captivity in Guantanamo during America's post-9/11 War on Terror.

In her search for her father, Cheryl meets John Veranda, an idealistic lawyer who gives up his family's land, risks his marriage, and abandons aspirations for his hometown's future for a relationship with Cheryl neither are fully prepared for.

Stuart Eisenstat, a dedicated federal bureaucrat, thinks he's doing an old friend a favor when he picks John's hometown as the perfect site for relocating Guantanamo detainees only to come face to face with the personal cost of America's global ambitions.
